Dear Sanjeev,

Re: Australian Broadcasting Corporation

We acknowledge the receipt of your Complaint Form submitted to the Press Council on 27 April 2021.

Please note that the Press Council handles complaints about Australian newspapers, magazines and their associated websites, as well as online-only publishers: http://www.presscouncil.org.au/uploads/52321/ufiles/FINAL\_18-03-16\_Associated\_Publications\_of\_Constituent\_bodies.pdf.

Australian television and radio broadcasters are regulated by the Australian Communications and Media Authority (ACMA), so any complaint about broadcast content should be taken up directly with the broadcaster or made to ACMA.

Information about how to access ACMA's complaints-handling process may be found at: <http://www.acma.gov.au/Citizen/Take-action/Complaints/Broadcast-complaints/broadcasting-complaints>.

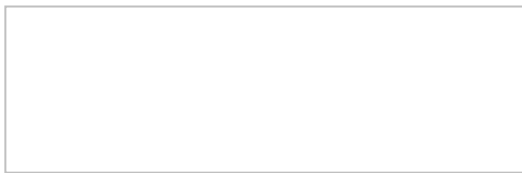

The Australian Broadcasting Corporation also provides its own complaints-handling process; see: <http://www.abc.net.au/contact/complain.htm>.

We trust this information will assist, and we thank you for your interest in maintaining media standards.

Kind regards,

Complaints
